Truck Traffic Nears Normal

Ban In Pennsylvania Still On, Union Says

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State police say truck traffic is fast approaching normal in Pennsylvania but the leader of a movement to halt all truck transportation in protest against the state's 45,000 pound gross weight limit disagrees sharply.

Trucks began rolling into the state from Ohio and New York state late yesterday. The biggest jams had occurred there when some drivers joined a move started by independent truckers in Pennsylvania.

However, Laird Bruner, business agent of the United Truckers Association, declared at his headquarters in Somerset, Pa., that pickets from his organization are continuing their efforts to halt truck traffic. He added they will keep up their activity indefinitely.

"The co-operation we are getting from other truck drivers is better than it ever was," Bruner declared. "A lot of out-of-state trucking firms are calling us and we are requesting them to keep their trucks out of Pennsylvania and they are doing just that."

Shortly after police reported big jams of trucks had been broken at Ripley, N. Y., and Conneaut, O., Bruner declared: "Local 249 of the AFL Teamsters Union at Pittsburgh has sent out 'goon squads' trying to keep traffic rolling. The 249 members are telling their men to keep on the job and the 'goon squads' are trying to stir up trouble but we won't give it to them. We're peaceful citizens."

Members of the union were not available for comment.

The United Truckers association is made up of men who own, and in most cases operate their trucks. Bruner said they can't earn an adequate wage under the state's 45,000 pound weight law. The limit in adjoining states is higher.

Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio ordered state police to clear the road of trucks near Conneaut, terming the situation one of "anarchy" because he said truckers were attempting "to take the law into their own hands."

Rain, Drop In Mercury To End "Heat Wave"

Spring put on a repeat performance today of its earth-warming debut in Salem Thursday.

The temperature soared to a high of 62 degrees, here at noon today as compared to yesterday's noon high of 60 degrees. The mercury reached 68 degrees Thursday afternoon. State Forecaster Willard Kibler said that a cold air mass in Illinois will work its way into the state and drop temperatures tonight to the forty degree area.

Scattered showers are predicted for tonight and Saturday, with the mercury receding to the considerably lower and more normal mark.

Japan Peace Treaty Gets Senate Okay

Steel Officials Confer With U. S. Stabilizer

CIO Approves WSB Hike Of 18.8 Cents; Strike Postponed

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel industry leaders met today with Roger Putnam, federal economic stabilizer, to discuss the Wage Stabilization Board's recommendations for settling the industry wage dispute.

The industry leaders represent 10 producers, but their identities were not announced immediately. The Wage Stabilization Board last night recommended a package settlement which was estimated by public members at 18.8 cents an hour. Industry members dissented.

The recommendation was approved by the executive board of the CIO Steelworkers Union. It led to postponement of a national steel strike set for midnight next Sunday.

The union postponed strike action until April 8. A strike of the 650,000 steelworkers still may develop. Industry executives have said repeatedly that they could not grant wage increases without a price increase. The wage board has no power to enforce its recommendations on either side.

While the industry leaders were meeting in the offices of the American Iron & Steel Institute, in the Empire State Building, a group of public relations advisers of the industry was working in another part of the same building on the industry's reply to the WBS recommendations. Originally this statement was scheduled for release at noon, but at that hour it was said that the release probably would not be until late afternoon.

Prisoner Compromise Indicated By Reds

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist truce negotiators indicated today they may be ready to compromise on the deadlocked issue of exchanging prisoners of war.

The Reds submitted a formal two-sentence version of their March 5 plan for trading prisoners. It made no mention of voluntary repatriation, the only important issue blocking agreement.

There is "absolutely nothing new" in the Communist proposal, said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, U. N. spokesman.

On the surface, he said, it does nothing to break the deadlock over whether prisoners should have the right to choose whether they are to be repatriated.

However, other observers interpreted what the Communist proposal did not say as significant. They said the Reds may want to compromise, but are not ready to say how.

The Reds suggested that negotiations proceed on the basis of prisoner roster exchanged Dec. 18. Under the Communist plan the U. N. Command would return 132,472, and the Communists 11,559.

Neither side suggested secret talks to speed agreement. The U. N. Command indicated Thursday it would agree to off-the-record negotiations if the Reds wanted to abandon daily progress reports.

Vivien Leigh

Humphrey Bogart

Bogart, Leigh Win Oscars; 'American In Paris' Top Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Humphrey Bogart, Vivien Leigh and "An American in Paris" won the principal Oscars last night in Hollywood's annual Academy Awards Festival.

Bogart was an obvious sentimental selection for best actor award as the gin-loving skipper in "The African Queen." Miss Leigh was a pre-award favorite for the best actress Oscar for her portrayal of a faded beauty in "Streetcar Named Desire."

But the upset mood of the night in the pantages theater prevailed in the best picture award—"An American in Paris" was a darkhorse and most of the pre-award polls figured "Streetcar" as a runaway choice.

It was a sentimental year and Bogie summed it up best himself: "I have been around a long time. Maybe the people like me."

Played As Skipper
Bogie's performance as the unshaven boatskipper in "The African Queen" was the popular choice. It brought down the house—a fancy ermine and white-tied houseful of the movieland elite.

Karl Malden, the disillusioned lover of "Streetcar," won the award for the best supporting actor and Kim Hunter, the wife in "Streetcar," won the best supporting actress plum. They were favorites.

The biggest upset of the night, if not in years, was the victory for "American in Paris." Most experts figured it last in their selections. A good musical, it was not classed in the same breath with "Streetcar" and "A Place in the Sun." But it won, nevertheless, to open-mouthed applause.

The musical also won Oscars in these categories: Costume design, art direction, set decoration, cinematography (all these in color films), musical scoring, story-and-screenplay. Gene Kelly Honored

In addition to these, Gene Kelly, the picture's star, won an honorary award for his "brilliant achievements in the art of choreography on film."

Pact Ratified 66-10; Truman To Sign It Soon

9 Republicans, One Democrat Opposed; Stipulation Attached

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has overwhelmingly approved a generous peace treaty with Japan six and one-half years after the surrender in Tokyo Bay ended World War II.

President Truman is expected to sign it promptly.

Thirty-eight Democrats and 28 Republicans supported the treaty late yesterday as it rolled up a 66 to 10 favorable vote, far more than the required two-thirds.

One Democrat, McCarran (D-Nev.) who often opposes Administration policies, and nine Republicans voted against it.

Although no reservations were accepted on the floor, the Foreign Relations Committee did attach one stipulation which will have to be sent to other signatory powers for approval. Object to Yalta Point

This states that the Senate ratification does not mean approval of provisions of the February, 1945, Yalta agreement giving the Kurile Islands and South Sakhalin islands to Russia.

The Soviet Union took over these strategically important islands from Japan soon after the war and still holds them.

Only the formality of the signing of a proclamation by the President remains before the United States completes its action to end the state of war with its once bitter foe.

The treaty is expected to be flown to Key West, Fla., for the President's signature. Officials believe he will act early next week.

The document provides that it must be approved by at least seven of 12 nations, all with vital interests in the Pacific.

5 Nations Give Approval
So far it has been approved by five of these, in addition to the United States. They are: Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Ceylon and Japan itself. Yet to act are Canada, France, Indonesia, The Netherlands, Pakistan and the Philippines.

The Senate yesterday also approved three Pacific security pacts which the Administration has said were of equal importance.

Those with the Philippines and with Australia and New Zealand went through quickly on voice votes. But the pact with Japan produced some debate and a roll call vote in which it was approved, 58 to 9.

This big event in Japanese history, by coincidence, fell on a national holiday—the arrival of spring.

A foreign office official said the Japanese "deeply appreciate the effort made by the United States which has brought near the day of Japan's formal re-entry into the family of nations."

Japanese editors and publishers called on Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, Allied commander, to express approval of the Senate action.

Sovereignty Restored
The Japanese Peace Treaty restores the full sovereignty of Japan over its home islands. But she renounces title to Korea, Formosa, and a number of other islands. Japan agrees to apply for U. N. membership and live peacefully in accordance with U. N. charter principles.

Her obligation to pay reparations is recognized; but the treaty says because of limited resources these payments should be confined to assets she has in surplus—excess labor and unused plant capacity.

Under the security treaty, the United States is given the right to keep military forces in and around Japan. An administrative agreement already has been signed covering the facilities to be used by these forces.

Navy Plane Explodes Near Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—All aboard were believed killed early today when a four-engine Navy Privateer crashed a few minutes after it took off from Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

Ten men—four officers, two cadets and four enlisted men—were aboard. Hours after the crash, which occurred about midnight Salem time, no survivors had been found and no bodies had been recovered.

A Navy spokesman said the plane "apparently disintegrated" when it struck the water in a roaring crash. Debris was scattered over a wide area and strong surface winds hindered the search for survivors or bodies.

At least one plane, flown by Commander Frank Screws, NAS operations officer and Lt. Comm. B. M. Dyer, plus all available crash boats from the air station joined in the search of the crash area. Large floodlights from the shore were trained on the choppy water.

It was Dyer, assistant operations officer, who first reported the crash of the big craft, called the PB4Y-2 by the Navy. He said he saw it going down behind the officers' housing area back of the naval base. It had taken off a few minutes before for Alameda, Calif., on a routine training flight.

R. M. McDonald, a seaman in the NAS Operations Department, watched the plane go down from a window when he heard it pass over his home at a very low altitude.

"When I saw it," McDonald said, "it seemed to be in a slight climb, but all four engines seemed to be missing fire."

"It made a 75 to 90-degree turn," he continued, "nosed down and then spun to the left." Seconds after he watched it pass from sight behind buildings at the air station he heard it crash with a roaring boom.

No reason for the crash had been advanced by naval authorities.

13 To 18 Red Jets Credited To Sabres

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—American Sabre pilots destroyed or damaged 13 to 18 Red jets in a series of fights Thursday climaxed by history's longest jet battle.

Darkening skies prevented exact assessment of results of 40-minute dogfight over North Korea. But pilots of F-86 Sabres said they damaged at least three MIG-15s and possibly eight.

In two earlier engagements Thursday the Sabres reported they shot down five MIGs and damaged five.

In the 40-minute battle 23 Sabres tangled with 40 MIGs in a fight running over 70 miles from Sinanju to the Yalu River border with Manchuria. The longest previous jet battle lasted 35 minutes. The fight brought the Sabres' three-day record to at least 31 and possibly 36 Red jets hit, including 11 shot down.

The Air Force said the bag of Red warplanes now stands at 232 destroyed, 39 probably destroyed and 426 damaged—a total of 697.

Predict Lower Insurance Rates

Junior High Squad Sets Basketball Record

COLUMBIANA — Lower insurance rates for Columbiana are anticipated as a result of the check made some time ago by representatives of the state fire marshal's department.

All fire equipment, hydrants, water supply, and every detail entering into the prevention of loss by fire were carefully checked, along with the results of hazard elimination by the removal of old buildings in the last two or three years. The findings have raised Columbiana one class higher as a fire risk, which is expected to have an effect on insurance rates.

At the meeting of Council Tuesday evening, Mayor W. A. Thomas read a brief communication from the Ohio Inspection Bureau at Columbus, which said the town is in a more favorable situation as to fire hazards.

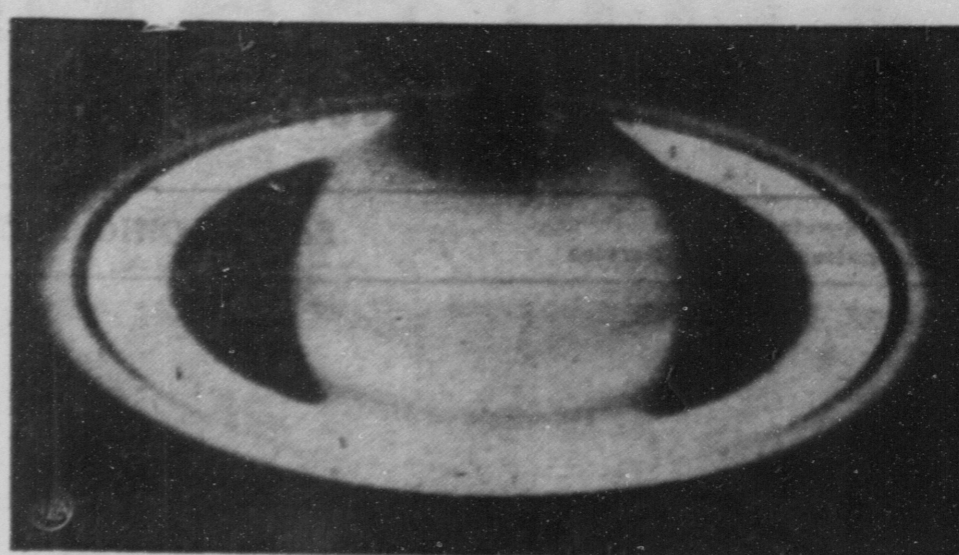

Mrs. L. L. Lyon of Struthers spoke on "Glamorizing Your Grammar" at the March meeting of the Sorosis Club at the home of Mrs. R. J. Barrow, North Main St., Wednesday evening. She stressed the importance of correct pronunciation, accent of words, and voice pitch. Mrs.

Miss Hively gave a safety demonstration and Sandra Hickman, a demonstration of correct measuring for baking. Plaques were made by metal tapping, and first and second-year girls made sewing baskets, and cooking projects for the year were discussed. The three advisers, Mrs. Kenneth Reash, Mrs. Robert Bott and Mrs. Arthur Hickman, were in charge of the meeting. The next meeting will be in the assembly room City Hall, Tuesday evening, April 22.

30 Hurt, 61 Arrested

In Trieste Mob Clash

TRIESTE, FREE TERRITORY (AP)—A pro-Italian demonstration last night turned into a battle with police resulting in injuries to 30 persons and arrest of 61.

The demonstration marked the fourth anniversary of a western Big Three declaration for restoring Trieste to its prewar Italian status. The city is now "free territory," ruled by an Allied Military Government and claimed by both Italy and Yugoslavia.

Italy sharply protested police intervention in the demonstration. British Gen. Sir John Winterton, chief of the Allied Military Government in Trieste blamed "irresponsible elements" for the clash.

Resistance Move Started In Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Crude printed circulars, slipped to passersby in the streets, urged Cubans today to passive resistance against the military dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista. There was no immediate evidence the campaign was taking effect.

The leaflets called for an end to all buying and theater attendance except for purchase of the "most essential products." Merchants said they had noted no decline in trade.

The main resistance to Batista appeared centered among striking Havana University students. They said they would not return to class until constitutional guarantees of freedom, suspended by Batista for 45 days, were restored.

The government, meanwhile, announced Honduras, Venezuela, El Salvador and Switzerland have joined Spain in recognizing the new regime.

Public Members

THE COLLAPSE from sheer fatigue of the chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board at the climax of the board's work in the steel dispute is a symptom.

All the pressure of a key union in a key industry has been brought to bear on WSB—not the whole board but the handful of public members within the board.

These members, with the chairman, comprise the only source of independent decision in the steel dispute. The union representatives and the management representatives are previously committed. In practice, their views tend to be irreconcilable.

Moreover, in practice—as now being witnessed—the public members of the board share with its chairman the burden of coming up with recommendations which will have a fighting chance of averting not only a strike which would be calamitous to industry but also to averting a precedent which might be calamitous to millions of wage earners.

Whether or not it was intended to be this way, a handful of men have been handed the brunt of responsibility for nation-wide bargaining in the steel industry. While the case before them concerns the entire steel industry, plus every other industry whose production costs are determined directly by collective bargaining.

Nobody Fooled

LATEST information from the Korean truce negotiations is more of the same—deadlock, angry outbursts, impossible demands and firm refusals.

With no intent to minimize the importance of what is happening but in recognition of something which has happened that cannot be regarded as ordinary news, newspapers, television and radio are beginning to handle the truce deadlock as routine information. The daily story from Munsan is somewhat less earth-shaking than the daily weather report.

This is because something vastly more important than news has developed out of negotiations in that tent at Panmunjom. A new concept of international relations, in which there is neither peace nor war but endless uncertainty has materialized.

This is new, at least in modern times. It will take practice to get accustomed to it. But it won't take much more practice, because no one really believes now there will be a truce in Korea. The most anyone hopes for is a mutual decision to quit fighting because the battle is futile—the better to wage a fruitful battle elsewhere.

Mission Accomplished

IF A POLLSTER sidles up to you in the next few days and asks about your inflationary gap, be ready with an answer.

Tell him your inflationary gap has been closed—all the way. Point out that you are not bidding up prices in the market places for scarce commodities.

You are not bidding up the price of steak. You are perfectly contented to eat something cheaper when the price of butter goes over a dollar a pound.

You are not unduly upset by grapevine reports that if you go to the right auto dealer you may get better than the allowance for a trade-in.

It does not bother you to see a display window stocked with television sets; you do not rush in to snap them up. You are not tempted to rush out and buy up a few hundred tons of gray market steel, possibly because you noticed in the paper the other day that Washington master-minds are beginning to bone up on pump-priming tactics. You are not competing for scarce commodities. Commodities are not scarce, and you've nothing to compete with anyway.

The inflationary gap seems to have been closed, what with one thing and another.

That Engineer Shortage

THERE has been a significant response to widely published opinions that the United States is suffering from an acute shortage of engineers to handle its technological problems.

Engineers already on the job and handling these problems dissent strongly from the broad proposition that the United States needs thousands of new engineers. They do not deny that more engineers are needed, but they take exception to the viewpoint that the deficit can be overcome by merely advertising the shortage.

They point to reasons for the shortage other than an absolute shortage of manpower. They point to the lack of inducements in the form of adequate starting pay, to lack of inducements in the form of recognition for work performed and to lack of inducements in the form of opportunities for advancement in the organizations which hire engineers.

If you want to see a good movie, just step out and get yourself a job as a censor.

Primary System

By DAVID LAWRENCE

People Give Evidence Of Wanting Change

THE American people are being given a demonstration of why it is becoming increasingly important for Congress to consider the idea of a nation-wide presidential preference primary.

The "write-in" by voters on both the Republican and Democratic sides in Minnesota shows that the people will not be denied an opportunity to participate in the selection of party nominees and that they are tired of a system which permits tricks and legal devices to keep prominent names off the ballot.

There were approximately 175,000 "write-ins" from both Democratic and Republican voters as against 230,000 votes for Humphrey, Stassen and Slettedahl, whose names were the only ones on the ballot. While the totals represent a record in Minnesota, there have been other instances in other states where the same thing has occurred, but nation-wide attention has never before been focused so much on the true significance of that form of expression.

THE PEOPLE have not yet expressed themselves on an even more vital aspect—namely, where the delegates to the national convention are selected by political cliques or organizations and ignore the popular preference. The American people are slowly discovering that, in the process of selecting a President, they have had very little to say about choosing the two major-party nominees and they must vote for one or the other without having really been able to pick someone else as the candidate of their party for the final balloting.

The educational process in America is sometimes stimulated by a concrete example of how something ought not to be done. The nominating machinery in the past has often been manipulated by bosses and organizations. The 1952 pre-convention campaign is being watched more closely than any other in the past half-century.

Whether it is because means of communication are better, or because the contests are being more vigorously fought than heretofore with a maximum of publicity and discussion, the fact remains that the action of the delegates who go to the national conventions this year will be scrutinized to determine whether they carry out the will of the people of their states.

SOME superstitions are remarkably persistent, and it seems likely that they will exist as strongly a thousand years in the future as they did a thousand years in the past.

Q—I have a friend who is two months pregnant and has a pet dog which she is fond of, and she gives it a lot of attention. I have been told her baby could be marked by this dog. Could this be true?

A—The presence of a pet dog around the house during pregnancy should have no effect whatsoever on the unborn child unless the mother stumbles over the dog or is allergic to it.

Q—What is the difference between barbiturates and phenobarbital?

A—Phenobarbital is one of the

went to Harold Stassen on the Republican side, being a "favorite son" and a former governor of the state, it was natural for him to top all others. His was the only prominent name on the Republican ballot due to technicalities or the political etiquette which caused the Taft supporters to discourage a contest with a "favorite son."

But nevertheless the "write-in" of more than 110,000 votes by the followers of Eisenhower and around 25,000 by Taft supporters is an indication that the people really wanted an opportunity to express themselves on all the prominent personalities and should have been given that opportunity through a printed ballot. Not everybody knew that a "write-in" was lawful.

In the case of the Minnesota primary, it was possible for the backers of certain candidates to withdraw their names before the ballot was printed. All this tends only to confuse the issue. In a nation-wide primary, properly set up, there would not be any chance for picking and choosing certain states for a battleground.

The names of all those qualified to enter could be placed on the national ballot by a federal law and the national party convention could then ratify the actual selection so that there would be no issue of constitutionality.

VARIOUS PROPOSALS for a nation-wide primary to select a president and vice president are before Congress, but there are many points that would have to be ironed out before the nation-wide preference system could overcome some of the devices that are being used in state primaries to interfere with the free choice of the people.

But eventually the American people are going to insist on having more to say about who the two men coming up for election in November should be. To be forced to choose between two presidential nominees neither of whom is the free choice of the people doesn't satisfy the requirements of a true system of representative government.

As for the manner of selecting the vice president, this is the worst defect of the present system. Practically no voting is done in the primaries for the vice presidential nominee, yet three times in the last 50 years a vice president has become President and influenced to a remarkable extent the history of the United States.

Q—If one has infected ovaries and needs an operation, do the tubes and uterus have to be removed also? Does the removal of female organs sometimes affect the mind?

A—The answer to the first question is "not necessarily." The tubes, or part of them, and the uterus, can be left in place when the ovaries are removed unless there is some special reason to remove them also.

In the second question, there is no reason to believe that removal of the female organs has any direct effect on the working of the mind.

Q—There is a dispute between four of us as to whether a woman over 55 years old and a year past the change of life, can become pregnant.

A—It has occurred.

Owen Lattimore's Memory

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

MEN who throw about charges of other men's probity and integrity must be sure that their memories are excellent. The witnesses before a congressional committee who are sure that all must be careful that he has not forgotten what he said. The ordeal by slander is fearful; but the cause for slander is generally of one's own making.

The enormous volume of the Lattimore hearings before the McCarran committee makes trying and on the whole dull reading because the learned professor fights the facts and resorts, for page after page, to arrogant vituperation. However, it is my function to toil through volume after volume of hearings to discover what he actually said.

I FIND that Lattimore has contradicted himself an extraordinarily large number of times. "Asiaticus" is the pseudonym for an important Communist whose relations with international communism have been fully established. Robert Morris, counsel for the committee, asked:

"Mr. Lattimore, have you testified in executive session before this committee that you did not know Asiaticus to be a Communist and in your opinion he was a socialist?"

"Mr. Lattimore: I believe I did, yes."

Lattimore was then shown the testimony. To that he replied: "Yes, my statement in that testimony was, 'I didn't know he was a Communist. I would have said, speaking as of the late 1930's, that I would have thought he was possibly a socialist, but not a Communist.'"

"Mr. Morris. All right. Mr. Lattimore, did you not testify in executive session before this committee that you did not know that Asiaticus was a Marxist?"

"Mr. Lattimore . . . may I add there that this was many years ago, and my memory may not have been perfectly accurate. Also I would like to add that I certainly did not consider myself then and don't consider myself even now an authority on who is a Marxist and who isn't."

Lattimore then got into an argument about what he knew many years ago, apparently forgetting that the record to which the committee counsel referred was made on July 13, 1951. Mr. Lattimore did not have to go back in his memory to the 1930's or even to the 1940's. The date when the statement in conflict was made, under oath, was July 13, 1951 and was being questioned on Feb. 29, 1952.

WE COME HERE to a curious thing. The Third International used to issue a journal called "International Press Correspondence," generally referred to as "impreccor." It was the authoritative paper of the Communist movement, affecting all countries in the world. It was issued in several languages. No man could possibly have regarded himself as an expert on China in the 1930's without reading "impreccor" closely, because the Communist movement in China was a developing public force and the best documentation of it was in "impreccor." I, for instance, subscribed to it for many years. But not Lattimore, who is supposed to be one of the foremost American authorities on China. This is what he said at the hearings:

"Mr. Lattimore . . . may I add at this time that I doubt very much whether I knew in the 1930's that there was such a thing as impreccor."

About Asiaticus, Lattimore testified:

"Mr. Morris . . . did you know that Asiaticus had written a book published in Berlin under Communist auspices entitled 'From Shanghai to Canton' . . . did you know that he had written the book 'From Shanghai to Canton' from your own knowledge?"

"Mr. Lattimore. Not from my own knowledge, no."

"Mr. Morris. Did you read the book?"

"Mr. Lattimore. No."

"MR. MORRIS. What names did you know Asiaticus by? Did you know him by the name of Shippe?"

"Mr. Lattimore. Shippe, or Shipper, yes."

"Mr. Morris. Hans Mueller?"

"Mr. Lattimore. Hans Mueller? I don't think I did."

"Mr. Morris. Any other name?"

"Mr. Lattimore. No, not that I recall."

Page after page follows which shows that Owen Lattimore cannot remember persons and their relationships with whom he did business as editor of "Pacific Affairs," and as an official of the Institute of Pacific Relations. The committee counsel had to read testimony of Dr. Karl Wittfogel to establish that "Asiaticus" was Heinz Moeller, an important German Communist, who had played a great role in China. Lattimore's direct testimony developed about a dozen contradictions which were so detailed in nature that they require further explanation.

Moving Day

By TRUMAN TWILL

OUR newspaper shop had moving day last weekend. Between the end of one week, late Saturday night, and the beginning of a new one Monday morning, all the printers' equipment was transferred to a new wing.

By Monday afternoon, arrangements in the new quarters were taken for granted. Years later, though a few will remember the good old place, there will be complete acceptance of the better new place.

If it were economically feasible moving day should be on a schedule, like going to the dentist. It is the best of all possible ways to get rid of clutter. And it is one of the best of all possible ways to discover possibilities of improvement, even if it's like pulling teeth for some of us to do it.

During the early period of our household, it was moved up-steen times. Moving at that time was a process of finding another set of furnished rooms, packing three or four suitcases and getting the hang of a new bus route.

But even when possessions began to pile up, moving still was a favorite project. The game always was worth the candle. One move, for example, was from the first to the third floor of an apartment. The apartments were identical, but the view was better on top.

The latest move, as faithful readers know, was to RFD. When that one was made, an auction cleared out the clutter. One morning the head of the house left for work from the old address with the old clutter in the old familiar places. That night he went home to a new address, with a houseful of new clutter to look at in new places. That one was a full treatment—the best yet.

But it was three years ago. Everything is familiar now. The novelty is gone. It's too soon yet to move, but it isn't too soon to think about it.

The next move, if things pan out, will be into a house on wheels. By that time they will have designed one that can be hauled in two sections, so when they are put together there will be enough space in the combination to compare favorably with the little houses that couples look for when the birdlings have left the nest.

Our house on wheels will never hit the road. Nope. Not with all that traffic and trouble. This one will be moved according to the scenery and the climate, within the confines of one large plot of land—a plot with woods for the hot summertime, a view for spring, another for fall and a sheltering hill and a hard-surfaced road close by for winter.

In a pinch the house on wheels might go on a tour, but that is not the idea. The idea is to have a house that can be turned east west, north or south, depending on what there is to see. Something too small for clutter but large enough to take a nap without being watched. Something that can be pushed over a cliff if no one wants it, or sold to the highest bidder and whisked out of sight.

That would be a way to have moving every day!

THINGS a man learns from reading his mail: There is an old popular belief that major wars break out about every 22 years. . . . The foundation for the Study of Cycles, after checking wars from 559 B.C., says there's something to it. The wars also seem to come along about the same time as certain big solar disturbances. . . . So to end wars all you gotta do is cure the sun of its spots? . . . Boy, hand me that celestial ointment. . . .

NEW YORK Add Leap Year news: It is illegal to marry your husband's grandfather in George. . . . But if you want to wed your first cousin in West Virginia it's okay—if he's over 56 years old. . . . You have to wait until you're a dowdy old maid of 16 before you can go to the altar in the hills of Kentucky. . . . In conservative Massachusetts, however, you can be a bride at the blooming age of 12. . . .

A name in the news recently was Mr. Alan Garfinkel, who hand ties knots sealing 50,000 pieces of bologna a week, or 500 an hour. . . . This is 'knotting'? . . . Yes, it is real knotting. . . . It takes a two-year apprenticeship to learn this skilled job right. . . . There are only 25 professional bologna knotters in America. . . . And they all hate the word arthritis. . . .

GREENWICH Village today is a tourist lure and a refuge for starchy-eyed young actresses, artists and Wall Street stenographers. . . . But in 1822 it was so remote from downtown Manhattan that society people fled there to escape yellow fever epidemic. . . . Did you ever hear of the noble lady who kept a corpse in her coach? . . . She was Mademoiselle de Coigny, an 18th century French intellectual. Why the corpse? . . . She was studying anatomy, and liked to keep a subject handy. . . .

Do you fear the boss' frown when you sneak out for a morning cup of coffee? . . . Well, a poll of 1,160 companies in 45 states showed that 78 per cent have now authorized "coffee breaks" of their own accord. . . . After finding that 800 employees were spending 15 minutes a day each grabbing snacks, the Mutual Life Insurance Company installed eight mobile carts that give "breakfast-at-your-desk" service to its 2,000 employees. . . . It figured this saved $130,000 in labor costs.

DID YOU know that 2,000 aliens are now serving in the U.S. Army? . . . That it is more important for you to be able to read well within arm's length that it is to have "twenty-twenty" vision, which only means the ability to read an eyesight chart at 20 feet? . . . That the first automobile ever stolen in America was snatched in St. Louis in 1905? . . . That cars are going just like people—because in 1950 half the autos on the road were ten years old or older? . . .

Speaking of the auto industry, there were 23,000,000 passenger cars in the United States in 1930. . . . 27,500,000 in 1940. . . . 40,000,000 in 1950. . . . and by 1960 there will be some 52,000,000. . . .

100 Presbyterians, Guests Have "Fiesta Night" Supper

EXCELLENT entertainment, fellowship and good food combined to make an enjoyable evening for more than 100 Presbyterians and their guests Wednesday evening at the "fiesta night" supper party in the church.

The South American fiesta theme was carried out in program and decorations. Mrs. Ralph Long and Mrs. Gertrude Stewart and members of the March committee of the Women's Association were in charge of supper arrangements. Mrs. Harry Snyder was program chairman.

Attorney Alfred Fitch, his wife Alice and children, John, Sarah and Frank, presented the unusual family worship service in which they all participated. "The Old Homestead" was their introductory musical selection. Each played a part.

The countries of Chili, Venezuela, Columbia, Ecuador, Brazil, Mexico, Peru and Argentina were represented by a group of children for the meditation by Mr. Fitch on "Love Thy Neighbor As Thy Self." John Fitch read the scripture. Mrs. Fitch led the audience in singing "America the Beautiful."

John Schmidt was an able master of ceremonies because he spent some time in Chili. He was dressed in a gay blue and red Chilean Huaso (cowboy) costume. An orchestra, comprised of Dale Horton, Wendell and Robert Dunn, Carol McQuilkin, Carol Coy, Mary Mercer, Bruce Snyder and Louise Bauman, entertained by playing "Siboney," with Jerry Van Hovel as accompanist.

"Begin the Beguine" was sung by Everett Crawford with Miss Grace Ellenberger at the piano. Miss Jean and Barbara Cameron brought the spirit of the Latin American countries in their singing of a medley of tunes.

"Tico Tico" was Bruce Snyder's piano number. John Schmidt concluded the musical program by singing "Rio Rio," a Chilean song. Mrs. Clarence Schmid accompanied her son at the piano. Mrs. Curtis Vaughan arranged for the musical program.

Topping off the evening was the showing of the movie, "Wings to the Word," which depicted the use of an airplane by Roger Perkins, missionary in his work among the natives of Brazil. A mule had been his means of transportation and Perkins declared that after 10,000 miles on a mule you get to think like one, slow and very patient.

He stressed that a church must be measured by the size of the land, so a plant for missionary work in Brazil was a necessity. After a year's effort he was able to secure a plane through a fund of pennies and dimes from Presbyterian children in the United States.

Mrs. J. C. Pottorf, Women's Association president, welcomed the group and announced the meeting of Mahoning Presbyterian Tuesday, April 1, in Alliance. The next meeting of the general association is April 16.

THE EARLY GREEK PHYSICIANS believed that it was not possible for a man to enjoy perfect health unless he carefully organized his life to accomplish this single objective. This meant the meticulous ordering of each day. Proper nutrition, exercise, and rest were perfectly balanced. Physical constitution, age, and even the seasons of the year were considered.

For a man of affairs, such a regimen is out of the question. When your work is done, you play and exercise when you can. But this little you can do. See your family physician at least once a year. Follow his advice. In case medication is required, we are prepared to serve you, promptly and economically.

Area History
Narrated To Methodists

HIGHLIGHTS on the past history of this part of the country were given by Howard C. Ale, Youngstown educator, in his talk on "America is Right Here" at the meeting of members of the Methodist Wesleyan Class Wednesday evening, Miss Eleanor McMurray introduced the speaker.

Thirty members, guests of Mrs. G. T. Harding in her home on Homewood Ave., heard Mr. Ale explain why children should be made aware of their heritage in history and in the development of their own home area.

The speaker illustrated his topic with a series of textbooks written by him covering history, geography and economic features of Mahoning, Columbiana, Trumbull and Mercer counties. The books are now in use in these counties.

Among the items of interest Mr. Ale related were the facts that Ralph Waldo, the poet, spoke on abolition in the old Salem Town Hall and Abraham Lincoln was heard by Salem people in Alliance. Mrs. Ray Pearce led the worship service on a Beatitude theme.

Mrs. Frank Stoerkel presided when plans were made for a benefit sale April 5. Also discussed was the guest night "fashion parade" scheduled for the next meeting April 16 in the church.

Mrs. John Litty, Mrs. Frank Stoudt, Miss Inez Heisler, Mrs. John Kerr, Mrs. Harry Abrams and Mrs. Chester Cope used a St. Patrick Day theme when refreshments were served.

CHILDREN'S STORIES

"Wicked John and the Devil," "Magic Mirror" and "Three Treasures of the Giants" are the stories Mrs. Howard Beilhart will tell at the children's hour 11 a.m. Saturday at the library.

Gladys Baker
Married To Nick Antoneo

MISS GLADYS Ellen Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker of Sebring, and Nick Antoneo, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Antoneo of Newgarden Ave., were united in marriage March 15 at 2:30 in the Upper Chapel of the Presbyterian Church. The date chosen was the birthday of the groom's mother.

Rev. George Wilson officiated at the single ring ceremony and Miss Anna Cook, organist, played "Claire DeLune," "I Love You Truly" and the traditional wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white suit and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of daisies and pansies. For the traditional something old she wore her sisters pearls.

The maid of honor, Miss Ruth Youmans of Sebring, wore a pink suit and pink and white accessories with a corsage of deep pink roses. George Antoneo of Warren served as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Baker chose a navy blue dress for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Antoneo also wore navy. Both had red rose corsages.

A small reception for the immediate family and a few friends was held at the Antoneo residence following the ceremony. The table was laid with a white linen table cloth and graced with candelabra and a three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. George Ziga and Mrs. Charles Sherrow assisted in serving. Out of town guests were from Sebring, Warren, Homeworth and Alliance.

For a motor trip through the southern states, the bride wore a brown and white checked suit with brown accessories. The couple will reside at 110 W. Pershing St. upon their return.

The bride is a graduate of Sebring High School and the groom is a graduate of Salem High School. He is employed in the office of the Lincoln Machine Company.

At the rehearsal party Friday evening the attendants were remembered with gifts and the groom gave his bride a rhinestone earring and necklace set.

Kiwanians In Lisbon Plan Sports Dinner

LISBON—The custom of colored eggs for Easter originated among Catholics who in early days were compelled to abstain from meat, milk, eggs and butter as a penance during Lent, a Catholic priest told the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Speaking at the weekly luncheon in the Pythian Temple, Rev. Fr. Paul Marceau of the St. Philip Neri Church at Dunganon discussed "Lent," the 40-day period preceding Easter when Catholics do penance for sins.

Fast rules today are very lenient, Fr. Marceau said, but in other centuries people got hungry for the tabu foods and, in the case of eggs, decorated them in anticipation of Easter and a full diet.

Fr. Marceau was introduced by Charles Faust, program chairman.

Robert Leggett, president, appointed Robert Dorrance and Robert Williams as club delegates to work with a Parent-Teacher Association committee planning a summer playground program.

Roses were presented six Kiwanis wives with wedding anniversaries in January, February and March. They were Mrs. Lynn Riddle, Mrs. Perry Rigby, Mrs. S. D. Bailey, Mrs. Larry Farrell, Mrs. Raymond Weaver and Mrs. Gordon Weinstock.

Richard Barrett, former football coach at Youngstown East, will speak next Thursday noon as the club fetes the High School football and basketball teams. The dinner will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church.

CHICKS FOR IRAN

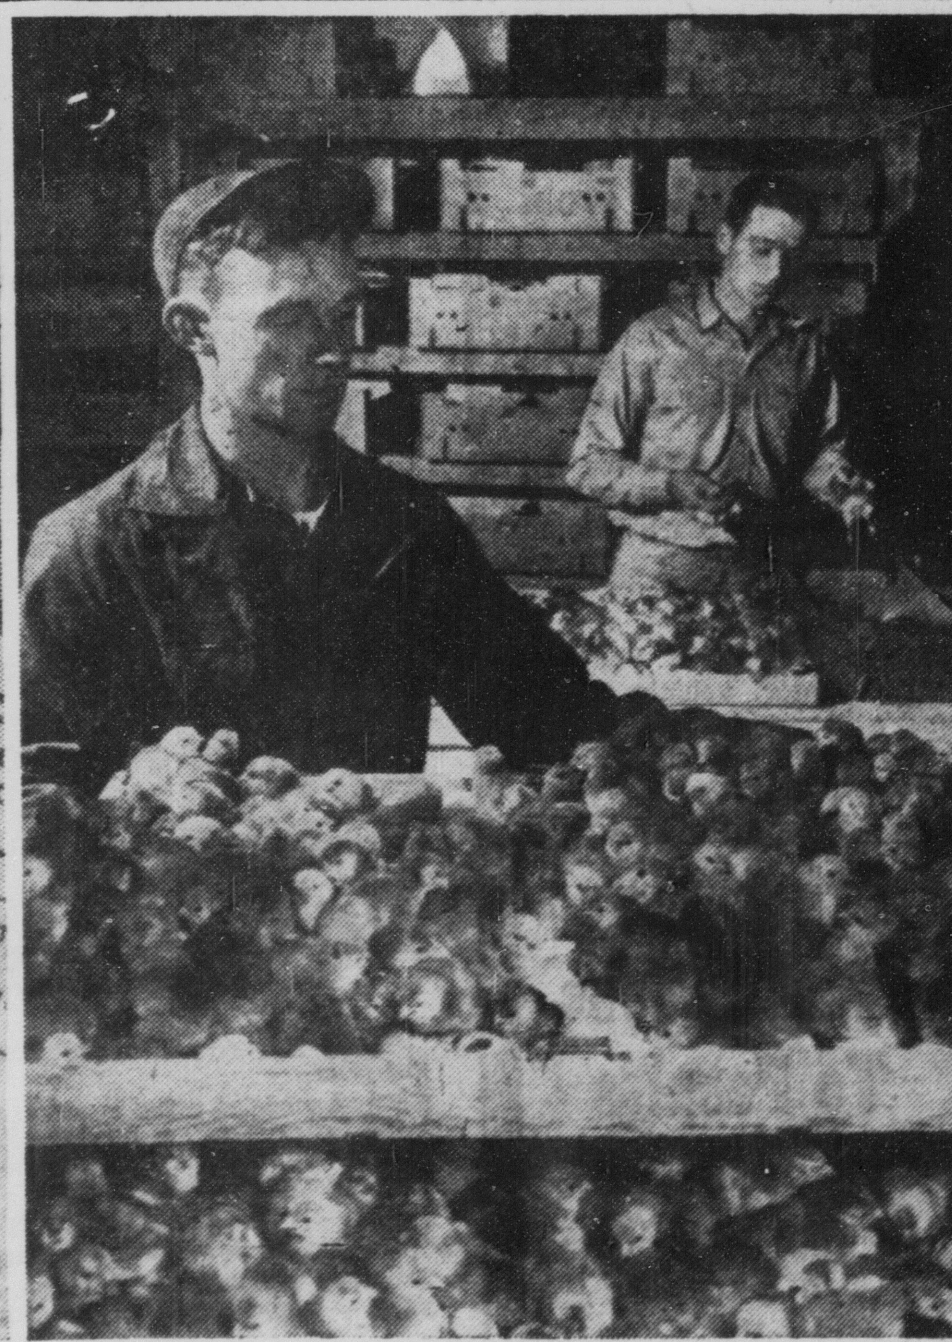

WITHIN THREE DAYS after leaving their incubators, some 10,000 baby chicks were playing the role of good will ambassadors between the United States and Iran. Under the U. S. government's Point Four program, the much-needed baby chicks were taken in crates from a Shiloh, N. J., chicken farm to New York's Idlewild airport where they then boarded waiting planes for the journey to far-off Iran. Less than 72 hours after pushing their way out of their shells, the baby chicks, shipped in lots of 1,000, landed in Iran. The chicks thus are a growing example of friendship between nations.

Iran-bound chick is about ready to break out of its shell.

One hour old, this chick sits on a label on top of the crate.

Trays of new chicks are taken from the incubator and sorted.

Stewardess holds a handful of new chicks before the takeoff.

Guessing On Ike And Truman Continue; Campaigns Quicken

(By The Associated Press)
The political guessing game about President Truman's and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's plans continued today as the active candidates for the presidency centered their campaigns in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

These were the top developments in the political arena:

A majority of 45 Wisconsin newspaper editors concluded from surveys in their own counties that popular sentiment favors Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP presidential nomination and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the Democratic nomination. The state holds its preference primary April 1.

The New Jersey battle between Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll and Taft was heightened by a consolidation of Eisenhower forces in the state and a suggestion that Driscoll run for vice president on the general's ticket. Official word was awaited from the Ohio senator before any action is taken to actually keep his name off the ballot.

Taft declared he was pulling out of the New Jersey race because Driscoll "had broken his word" in endorsing Eisenhower. The governor said Taft stepped out because of his "successive setbacks in New Hampshire and Minnesota."

An Associated Press poll in South Carolina indicated the state's eight electoral votes may go to the Republican candidate if the Democrats nominate a "New Deal" candidate. A Southern Democrat such as U.S. Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia—if nominated—was conceded a certain chance for the votes.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, secretary of agriculture from 1945 to 1948, predicted Truman will seek re-election. Gen. Douglas MacArthur issued a statement saying there was no inconsistency between his 1948 statement that he would not shirk any public call to duty and his unwillingness to enter the presidential primaries.

Kefauver moved from Wisconsin to Nebraska to contest Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma for the Democratic delegates from that state. Its primary is April 1.

The three Republicans seeking Wisconsin's delegates stepped up their campaigning. The preference primary there is only 12 days away, with Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren seeking the GOP vote.

Salem Gets $14,563 From Tax Monies

Salem received $14,563 Thursday as County Auditor Irvin J. Vorndran made distribution of $72,797 in utilities excise tax and $49,829 in sales tax.

The city's share in the excise tax, totaling $72,797 for distribution to the county and four cities, was $4,743.

The county got $34,517; East Liverpool, $21,195; Wellsville, $9,664 and East Palestine, $2,678.

Excise tax money is earmarked solely for relief. Sales tax returns go into the general funds. Salem's share of the sales tax was $4,716. The county got $17,584. Returns covered a three-month period.

Cities and villages divided $24,612 of the sales tax money while the townships split $7,632. A breakdown, in order of amount:

East Liverpool, $9,083; Wellsville, $2,763; East Palestine, $1,962; Lisbon, $1,244; Columbiana, $1,222; Leetonia, $976; Salineville, $892; New Waterford, $487; Rogers, $365; Hanover, $332; Washingtonville, $313, and Summitville, $236.

6 Vehicles In Mishap

CINCINNATI (AP)—Six vehicles piled up in Reading yesterday when a tractor pulling a house trailer collided head-on with an automobile and a milk truck. Another car hit the house trailer and two other autos which were being steered around the wrecked cars also collided. Charles Tenis, 65, a helper in the milk truck, was injured.

Extended Forecast

Saturday through Wednesday will average 3 to 6 degrees below normal. Colder Saturday and Sunday. Warmer again by Wednesday. Normal high 50, low 31. Rain tonight and Saturday, followed by rain and possibly snow Monday night or Tuesday.

TAFT OUT OF NEW JERSEY PICTURE.—Campaign worker Dodie Smart takes down a portrait of Senator Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio, in his Newark, N. J., headquarters after the senator angrily withdrew from the state presidential primary. Taft pulled out, he said, because Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll had "broken his word" by declaring for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Driscoll retorted that the Ohioan withdrew because "the Taft drive has collapsed."

GOOD NEWS FROM MINNESOTA.—As he leaves SHAPE headquarters in Rocquencourt, France, a smiling Gen. Dwight Eisenhower appears delighted with the news from Minnesota that he had run a close second to favorite son Harold Stassen in a spectacular wave of write-in votes. A source close to the General referred to the write-in vote as "amazing and incredible."

Aid Sent To Rescue Nevada's Livestock

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—

Army bulldozers went to the rescue today of 600,000 head of starving livestock in north and central Nevada. Twenty 'dozers were sent from Ogden, Utah, to attack ranch roads clogged by snow and clear the way for rushing in feed.

Other bulldozers from the naval base at Hawthorne, Nev., opened a 35-mile long lane through snow to 2,000 marooned residents in Mono County, east-central California. Residents were low on fuel but had food.

In northern California, highway plows bit into snowdrifts which closed the two major highways over the mountains to Nevada—U.S. 40 and 50—Tuesday. Their reopening was expected shortly.

In the Rockies two snowstorms disrupted ground and air travel and left Denver streets almost impassable. The storm belt extended some 150 miles from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Colorado Springs.

The biggest crisis was in Nevada, where Gov. Charles Russell declared a state of emergency to qualify for federal assistance. Promptly 20 Army bulldozers were ordered sent to help save an estimated $10,000,000 worth of imperiled cattle and sheep.

New Jet Engine Makes Debut At Dedication

LOCKLAND (AP)—A sleek and shiny "improved" jet engine—designed to "make the F-86 even more potent than the Sabres" now flying in Korea—has been unveiled here.

The engine—the J47-GE-27—made its debut with considerable fanfare Wednesday at the dedication of a General Electric Co. jet center here. It was the 10th anniversary of the running of the first American turbojet at General Electric's Lynn, Mass., plant in 1942.

Company officials declined to comment, but there were indications that the speeches and dinners and general hoopla of the celebration were intended initially to herald a more advanced product.

Truck Hits Ammunition Vehicle; Drivers Hurt

FINDLAY (AP)—Volunteer firemen quickly doused a burning ammunition truck yesterday after it caught fire in a collision with another truck near Williamstown in southern Hancock County.

A small amount of ammunition exploded. The other truck, loaded with farm equipment, careened into a house and demolished it.

Both drivers were injured. Wayne Pinkerton, 22, of Raytown, Mo., driver of the ammunition truck, and John Pierson, 39, Philadelphia, were reported in good condition at a hospital in Upper Sandusky.

Pinkerton was sprayed with gasoline and received burns. No one was in the demolished house when it was hit.

Tax Probe Perjury Faces Attorney

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax investigators today raised a threat of perjury action against William Power Maloney, New York attorney, after a stormy session of questioning about his relations with Henry (The Dutchman) Grunwald, Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) and a multi-million dollar tax case.

Dismissing Maloney from the witness chair, members of the House Ways and Means Subcommittee voted to send a transcript of his testimony to the Justice Department for consideration of whether a charge of perjury—lying when under oath—was justified.

Maloney is a former special assistant to the Attorney General. He left the government post in 1946 and has since been in private practice. At the present tax scandal hearings he has been acting as counsel for Grunwald.

In forcing him to name this man, Maloney said, the committee's only purpose could be one of "embarrassing the gentleman."

Chairman King (D-Calif.) remarked that was a "gratuitous statement" and that the name of the individual was already a matter of the committee record.

Ruling On Residence For Ohio Voting Given

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill ruled today that an Ohioan must reside in the state a year before he can register and vote in a primary election. The year's residence requirement also applies to a November election, O'Neill added.

His opinion went to Prosecutor Mathias H. Heck of Montgomery County. O'Neill explained that his opinion does not abridge the right of a minor to register and vote in a primary election if he will be 21 years old before the November election.

Steel Strike Delay Causes Stock Rise

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market moved selectively higher today with sentiment helped by the union decision to postpone the steel industry walkout set for this weekend.

Despite advance hints that the steel companies would soon issue a blast against the wage increase recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board, Wall Street appeared confident that an agreement between opposing factions would be reached before the new strike deadline set for April 8.

Gains among the old-line industrial leaders were generally held to fractions. Stocks to make headway included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Anaconda.

Rails participated in the improved tone with the price index at another new 20-year peak. Fractional gainers included Northern Pacific, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific and Erie.

COLUMBUS (AP) — Frank Branch, 20, was sentenced yesterday to life in prison for the robbery-slaying of Miss Virginia Bates, 40, a Columbus hotel catering manager.

Oscars

Award went to Producer Arthur Freed. Producer Darryl Zanuck said in presenting it that two of Freed's pictures "Showboat" and "An American in Paris" are "perfect examples of creative art."

Bogart's win was partly due to sentiment and partly due to old-fashioned campaigning. While favored Marlon Brando cavorted around Europe, Bogie put on a whirlwind campaign.

Bogart had been up twice before in 1936 for "The Petrified Forest" and in 1943 for "Casablanca." He and his wife Lauren Bacall, planned a victory celebration at a cafe with 15 of their "chummiest chums."

Miss Leigh, appearing on Broadway with her husband, Sir Laurence Olivier, was not present. Greer Garson accepted in her behalf. Another absentee was Miss Hunter. Bette Davis accepted her statuette.

Miss Leigh heard her selection by portable radio in her dressing room in New York. She lifted her face back to her husband and commanded: "Give me a nice big hug." Olivier did, with a kiss.

"I'm thrilled," she said, "and I'm honored." It was just as thrilling, she added, as her first Oscar.

About all that Miss Hunter, also in New York, could gasp was: "I'm happy, very happy. . . . It's wonderful." Malden said he felt great.

The one sure bet of the evening who came through was George Stevens, who took the best director award for his, "A Place in the Sun."

In "The Cool, Cool Cool of the Evening," also a favorite, won the best song award for composers Johnny Mercer and Hoagy Carmichael.

Court Action Awaited On Gambling Charges

Harley Thomas, 34, of Westville is awaiting action by the Columbiana County Common Pleas Court after his attorney, John L. Russell of Alliance, requested a jury trial for Thomas on two gambling charges.

The charges arose from a raid Feb. 29 on the George D. Worth American Legion Post Home at Lake Placencia.

Constable Earl Stewart of Knox Township and Homeworth Justice of Peace Russell E. Iden visited the home and reported seeing several hundred people playing keno.

Thomas, an agent for the post, and permitting gambling, was arrested by Stewart for exhibiting gambling devices and.

During a preliminary hearing before Iden Wednesday night, attorney Russell requested the jury trial and the case was referred to the Common Pleas Court. Thomas is free on $200 bond.

Farm Hand Arrested For Automobile Theft

William Taylor, 28, a farm hand for Kenneth Zeigler of the Salem-Lisbon Rd., was picked up Thursday by Chicago authorities in possession of Zeigler's 1948 sedan.

The owner, who operates the Zeigler Farm Market, told sheriff's deputies Taylor borrowed the car Tuesday night to go to Salem to buy some clothes.

He had worked at the farm since August. Zeigler filed a theft warrant Wednesday with Justice of Peace Felix Butch at Lisbon. The State Patrol broadcast the alert.
